A Phi Sigma Kappa legacy is defined as a son, grandson, great-grandson, or brother of a Phi Sigma Kappa initiate. Stepsons, step grandsons, step great-grandsons, and stepbrothers are considered legacies if their family considers them as such and if the family asks that they be considered as such. These men deserve special consideration during membership recruitment. There is no such thing as an indirect legacy (i.e., cousin, nephew, etc.), and such persons are not given special consideration. However, we recognize that they may have special knowledge of and interest in Phi Sigma Kappa and they are warmly welcomed and recruited.

Legacy: Yes _____ No _____ Phi Sig Relatives _____
